Children under twelve years of age at the time of embarkation, five dollars less than the above; and infants under twelve months between dollars less than the above named prices, to Boston or Albany, and other places in proportion; but we will not issue a pre-paid certificate for children under twelve years of age, unless accompanied by a passenger over twelve years, who must be paid for at the same time and on the same certificate.

The above prices embrace a steerage passage from Liverpool to Boston, by any of our Splendid Line of Packets; provisions at sea according to the undermentioned dietary scale; doctor's attendance and medicine on board when required; port charges at Boston, and all expenses of transportation of passengers and baggage from the ship at Boston, to the destination agreed upon.

In addition to any provisions which the passengers may themselves bring, the following quantities, at least, of water and provisions will be supplied to each steerage passenger of twelve years of age and over, every week during the passage, commencing on the day of sailing, and at least three quarts of water per day:

Two oz. of Tea or 8 oz. of Sugar; 5 lbs. of Oatmeal; 9½ lbs navy bread; 1 lb. wheat flour; 2 lbs rice.

Children under twelve years of age (not including infants,) are furnished with six pounds of bread stuffs per week, the usual allowance of water, and half allowances of Tea and Sugar.

Each person at our Liverpool House informs us per steamer of the names of pre-paid passengers embarked, we publish their names in the Boston Pilot, and also notify each purchaser of pre-paid certificates, either directly or through our agents.

On the arrival of any of our ships in the outer harbor, we immediately dispatch an agent on board, to give pre-paid passengers the necessary instructions regarding their route westward.

Bedding and utensils for eating and drinking, must be provided by passengers; and those going to the Canadas, or Western States, must furnish their own provisions from Boston.

TRAIN & CO., of Boston, inform those who take an interest in the welfare of Immigrants, that as owners of the only LIVERPOOL and BOSTON LINE OF PACKETS, they have determined that their Immigration business shall be conducted in their own name, on their own responsibility, and by themselves or their immediate servants.

In calling public attention to the subjoined list of the Ships which comprise our Boston Line of Packets, we believe that its general reputation as the first of American Lines is sufficiently known and established. The Thousands of Letters which have been sent by American immigrants to their friends in every part of Europe, have borne ample testimony to the rapid and successful passages (with very few exceptions) and the Regularity, Comfort and Safety which their Passengers have hitherto enjoyed. Many of them will be recognized as vessels which have gained the very highest character, by a succession of unusual rapid passages.

Packet Ships which are dispatched in this LINE:

STAR OF EMPIRE,	Capt.	BROWN,

These Ships, when in the Line, sail from Boston on the 5th of each month, and from Liverpool each week during the year, and are distinguished by a Red Flag with a White Diamond.

OFFICES:

Enoch Train & Co., Nos. 37 and 38 Lewis Wharf, Boston, Massachusetts.

Train & Co., Merchants, No. 5 India Buildings, Water St., Liverpool, Eng.

Train & Co., Passage Office, Nos. 115 & 116, Waterloo Road, Liverpool, Eng.

Train & Co., No. 121 St. Patrick Street, Cork, Ireland.

These magnificent Ships are ALL AMERICAN BUILT and constructed expressly for Packets. They are all new and of the first class, built under the inspection of our principles and of the best materials. They possess all the modern improvements which conduce to health and comfort, as a superior system of lighting and ventilating, the very best Provisions and a careful medical superintendence.

The Captains have been carefully selected as first-rate sailors and men of humanity, and an experienced Surgeon is attached to each ship. Every attention will be paid to render this the best and most popular conveyance to America.

As Train & Co. have made such arrangements in Liverpool as will PREVENT their friends from the delay and impositions sometimes practiced there, they believe that those who pre-pay passages cannot but see the advantage of being able to engage with a Respectable House, on favorable terms, with the well known Line of Magnificent Packet Ships, and in this way avoid the disrespect, annoyance and delay which they so often experience, when they engage with Agents who are but slightly connected with transient Ships.

As a proof that their Immigration business is conducted on principles uniformly Honorable and Humane, and that they have given entire satisfaction in the past, the fulfilment of all their engagements, we are permitted to refer to the very Rev. THEOBALD MATHEW, Cork, Ireland.

We also subjoin the following testimonial from the Right Reverend JOHN BERNARD FITZPATRICK, D. D., Bishop, Cathedral, Boston.

From our New York Correspondent.

New York, Wednesday March 8th.

The intelligence by the Atlantic to-day must, one would think, put an end to all uncertainty on the question of peace or war in Europe, for the Czar rejects the proposals of Louis Napoleon, and is increasing his forces around Kulafat, as if for a determined ouslaught on that fortress. The departure of troops from England was in full activity, and the nation cheers its soldiers on to battle with an unanimous and hearty voice.

The French war cry will not be less hearty, and the strange spectacle, not witnessed since the days of the crusades, will be presented, of the flags of France and England blended in the same cause and the same line of battle, tho' now for as then against, the Crescent. Christendom, indeed is now on the side of the Crescent, a paradox which time will resolve, perhaps most significantly in favor of Mahomedan Sovereignty with Christian faith. But we must wait for the solution of time.

Thus far the barometer, so sensitive generally, of the public funds, indicates little or no disturbance from apprehension of war, which after all both in England and in France may have the compensating, merit, first of b-ing popular, and next of diverting attention from knotty topics of reform at home, that might seriously embarrass both governments.

In the great question of clothes—the only one thus far in which the diplomacy of the administration has seemed to put itself forth with such strength as it has, a signal triumph of Pierce and Marcy is announced by the steamer, in the shape of an official communication from the Queen's Lord Chamberlain to the Republic's Minister Plenipotentiary that he is at liberty to appear at court in such attire as suits him. To be an entirely original representative of America, he should put feathers in his hair, a tomahawk in his hand, and with blanket, breechcloth, leggings and moccasins, and a painted skin, claim audience of the Queen and her numerous babies,—taking with him that charming immaculate, Nickels, his Secretary of Legation, to assure the royal infants that our Indian is a very tame one, and would harm nobody. Really, Sartor Resartus was not a rhapsody, and clothes are the man, according to the diplomatic wisdom of our great men, and almost,—so far as they can effect it—the country.

We hope now that the Nebraska bill may be killed in the House; yet, with the effort that will be so unscrupulously made by the administration, and the lavish use of its patronage, the odds for Freedom are not promising. If we might reasonably anticipate that the voice of New Hampshire, at her election next Tuesday, would be uttered against Slavery extension and the Sublimeness of violating an organic law, then even executive corruption might be baulked, and Right and Liberty prevail. But if it be otherwise—if men born to labor, and who honor it, and are honored by it—if they consent that a region larger than the Old Thirteen, once consecrated to Freedom, shall be given up to the Slave—if they consent thus to dishonor free labor and to cast away the inheritance of their children, and their children's children from generation to generation, in that great central region of our North American Continent, now known under the Indian name of Nebraska—then indeed one may almost despair of the fitness of man for self-government, or for an enlightened view of his own interests and duty, and be prepared to approve the cause of republican France, in casting away the rights and the cares of self government, and throwing themselves into the arms, and under the control of a daring, desperate Usurper.

Verily, I would rather, bad as it is, be subject to the despotism of Louis Napoleon, with its prestige of past glories, than the despised and despicable plaything, under the name of freemen, of southern slaveholders. If this bill is to pass, be it so; but then REPEAL, REPEAL, REPEAL, will be the sole gathering cry of all in the free states whose necks, altho' the skin be white, are only fit for the yoke of the slave-master, and whose souls are base as the votes of Northern men who go for the bill. I write most warmly on this topic, and there is not a drop of blood in my veins that does not boil when I think on the iniquity; and I can hardly think of any other political question.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, March 6th.

The SENATE is not in session to-day, still resting from their Pro-Slavery labors of Thursday and Friday last. To-morrow, however, they resume their sittings and among the first bills to be acted upon is that in relation to the Amistad negroes.—The South thinks this a propitious movement to press their claims. I am glad of it, for I desire to see just how far Northern patience and forbearance (not to say dough face-ism and pusillanimity) will go, and precisely how much special class, pro-slavery legislation it needs to constitute an over-dose. The House met, as usual, at midday, and immediately after the reading of the Journal, passing over all other orders of business, proceeded at once to the consideration, in committee of the whole, of the Homestead Bill. After almost interminable amendments and five-minute speeches, the Committee, at 2 o'clock, got thro' with the bill and rose and reported it to the House. Mr. DAWSON, of Pa. immediately moved the previous question, and the call was sustained, 87 yeas, noes not counted. This brings the House to a direct vote on the amendments, in turn, and then on the engrossment of the bill, as amended, without further debate. As a decision was demanded on each amendment, and every call of the Yeas and Nays consumes 15 minutes' time, I did not wait to see the play out. It was the old struggle between a majority and minority, the one endeavoring to pass, the other to delay a bill. Of course, the bill will pass the House, if not to-day, to-morrow, or next day, by at least 2 to 1; but its fate in the Senate is, at the best, doubtful. I hope for its success; as well because, I think its provisions calculated to benefit largely the new States and to be, in the main, just in themselves, as that I regard it as a staggering blow dealt at Slavery.

The National Intelligencer of this morning has an earnest protest against the Nebraska bill—notwithstanding its passage in the Senate, and takes occasion to quote a few pertinent extracts from the speech of Gen. CASS. I send them herewith, as I think it well that the whole country, and especially the Free States, should mark and ponder the explicit statement, made by the veteran Senator from Michigan, that there was no necessity for the introduction of this Nebraska fire-brand into the Senate. Mr. CASS, in the course of his remarks, said:

"With the honorable Senator from Massachusetts (Mr. EVERETT,) I frankly avow that I was filled with doubt and alarm during the troubles in Congress, which were terminated by the Compromise Measures of 1850, and the men who were instrumental in it are entitled, or less approbation than I feel. But though the ominous cry of woe, woe to Jerusalem! is once more heard, I do not believe that the country is in any danger, not the least; but still I do not deny that these frequent, almost periodical renewals and revivals of this threatening subject must necessarily produce irritation and excitement, tending to array one section of the country against another, and thus to weaken those ties of confidence and affection so essential to the permanence and tranquility of this mighty Confederacy. Events, connected with our territorial aggrandizement, seemed as their necessary consequence to lead to the former agitation; but the PRESENT ONE has burst upon us without warning, and, I think, from causes which might have been avoided."

"Mr. President, I have not witheld the expression of my regret elsewhere, nor shall I withhold it here, that this question of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, which opens all the disputed points connected with the subject of Congressional action upon slavery in the territory of the United States, has been brought before us. I do not think the practical advantages to result from the measure will outweigh the injury which the ill feeling, fated to accompany the discussion of this subject through the country, is sure to produce."

"Thus believing, I should have been better content had the whole subject been left as it was in the bills when first introduced by the Senator from Illinois, without any provision regarding the Missouri Compromise. I am aware it was reported that I intended to propose the repeal of that measure, but it was an error. My intentions were wholly misunderstood. I had no design whatever to take such a step, and thus reasscinating from its quietude a deed of conciliation which had done its work, and had done it well, and which was hallowed by patriotism, by success, and by its association with great names now transferred to history. It belonged to a past generation; and in the midst of a political tempest, which appalled the wisest and firmest in the land, it had said to the waves of agitation, Peace be still! and they became still. It would have been better, in my opinion, not to disturb its slumber, as all useful and practical objects could have been attained without it. But the question is here without my agency, and I am called upon to take my part in its adjustment. I shall do so frankly and fearlessly."

It may be well to add, in this connection, that public and well-accredited rumor attaches peculiar meaning to Mr. CASS' disclaimer of any intention to have himself proposed the "repeal of the Missouri Compromise." It is said that what prompted Mr. DOUGLAS to move in this matter was the report, which had reached his ears, that Mr. CASS intended to do so; and it was to forestall his Michigan rival, or, in other words, "steal his thunder" that the "little Giant" brought in his Nebraska bill! Yet the first four weeks discussion of the measure have so well satisfied Mr. D. of the serious blunder he made, that he not only regrets it now, but actually withdraws his name from the Presidential contest of 1856, to escape the consequences of his hasty, ill-advised and iniquitous move!

The chances for the passage of the bill thro' the House, I regret to say, improve. What with the very large "democratic" majority there, the efforts and influence of the Administration, the outside pressure from all sorts of interests—indifferent to the extension or restriction of Slavery, but clamorous for their own particular bills, and ready to barter votes and promise anything to secure them—the holy cause of Freedom is in great peril. Still, I continue to hope that so gross a wrong to the Free State will wake up, throughout the North and West, a spirit, which no Representative from the sections of the Union will dare to outrage and defy by voting for the bill.

Wisconsin ought not to be indifferent, or silent in so momentous a crisis. Her Legislature should speak quickly; or if party influence gags the Legislature, at least let her Press and her People, by earnest, emphatic and immediate remonstrance, make known to their Representatives here, their undoubted and determined hostility to the Slavery-extension project of Senator DOUGLAS and the PIERCE administration. Especially let our adopted fellow-citizens, Germans, Norwegians, Irish, and all—at whom this bill aims a dastard blow; excluding nations, in fact, from the Territory opened to Slaves and Slavery—especially let them make manifest their opinion upon this meanest and most objectionable of all class legislation.

Our Wisconsin R. R. grant bill will probably come up, in order, to-morrow, if Nebraska does not convulse the House. The story goes that Mr. MACE is to vote for Nebraska, as a quid pro quo for his Land grant. I think it quite likely that he will be required to show his hand on the former question before he secures the prize for which he has paid so largely in advance.

WASHINGTON, March 7.

The HOMESTEAD BILL, which has been debated at much length, finally passed the House yesterday by 106 yeas to 71 nays; the members from the Free States voting generally in the affirmative and the members from the Slave States almost en masse in the negative. Messrs. EASTMAN and MACY, of our State voted aye; as Mr. WELLS would have done, had he been present. He was engaged at the moment with the Secretary of War, on business relating to our Harbor. To-day, the House occupied the whole of its session with Territorial business, as it will to-morrow and next day: these three days having been set apart for that purpose. The immediate subject under consideration was a bill granting lands to Minnesota for a Rail Road from Fond du Lac on Lake Superior to the Iowa line. It led to an animated discussion, in the course of which GERRIT SMITH made a very effective argument against the principle and policy of Land Grants to Corporations. As none but Territorial business can be transacted during the ensuing three days and Friday is private bill day, there is no probability of the Wisconsin Land Grant bill coming up again before next week. Its fate is still uncertain. On the one hand it is strengthened by the general disposition, on the part of Congress, to give away the Public Domain; while it is weakened, on the other, by the want of character and credit in the Company proposed to be benefited. I think it settled, however, that the bill cannot become a law in its present shape; as certainly it should not.

The NEBRASKA bill came into the House to-day from the Senate, but was laid on the Speaker's table without a word said. It is supposed that the preliminary question of reference may be made a test one, and it is shrewdly conjectured that the Administration do not desire any such test to be made till the New Hampshire election now close at hand, is safely over. In the SENATE to-day, Messrs. EVERETT and CLAYTON, who were both absent at the final vote on the Nebraska bill, took occasion to say that, if present, they should have voted in the negative. So would Messrs. ALLEN (dem.) of Rhode Island and COOPER (whig) of Pennsylvania—making 18, all told, against the bill. During the morning hour the HOMESTEAD Bill came in from the House, and Mr. WALKER asked that it might be read and referred to the Committee on Public Lands, of which he is a member. This is usually done of course and without debate: but Mr. CASS thought it necessary to seize the occasion to say how much he was in favor of the bill, and how desirous he was that it should be passed with as little delay, as might be. This prompted others to speak; each, apparently, as anxious as Mr. CASS to mount what was regarded as a popular hobby. Mr. MASON, of Virginia, however intimated his dissent to the bill, as did Mr. BAYARD, of Delaware—an indication of the quarter from which, in the Senate as in the House, opposition to the bill may be looked for. Mr. SEWARD expressed the hope that the bill might be referred, without further delay or debate, to the Committee on Public Lands, and availed himself of the opportunity to bear witness to Mr. WALKER's zealous and consistent advocacy of this measure from the very commencement of his Senatorial career. The bill was finally so referred, and will be favorably reported upon, by that Committee, in a few days. I am hopeful, but not sanguine, of its success in the Senate.

Mr. WELLS, in company with several of our citizens, called upon the Secretary of War yesterday in relation to the Straight-Cut. The Secretary seems disposed to gratify the universal wish of Milwaukee in this matter, but sees a "lion in the way" in the fact that the General Government has not the title to the land thro' which the new Channel is to be dug. Should our Common Council pass an Ordinance transferring the title to the Government, I think one great obstacle to the progress of this much needed improvement will be removed. There is good hope of our obtaining another appropriation of $15,000 or $20,000 this year, which added to the $15,000 appropriated last year and the $20,000 voted by the City ought to give us as good a Harbor as we need.—By the way, an instructive and amusing correspondence, between the contractors for the Harbor Improvements on our Wisconsin coast and the War Department, is in course of printing under a call from the House. Some of the letters are especially rich, and will make a talk in Milwaukee.

I learn to-night that the Select Committee of the Senate have agreed upon and will to-morrow report to the Senate a feasible and well-considered bill for the construction of the PACIFIC RAIL ROAD. The bill provides, in substance, that the work shall be let to the lowest bidder (individual or company) upon advertised proposals, and with proper securities for fulfilment; Government granting the right of way thro' the Public Lands and alternate sections along the route, and not exceeding $600 per mile, daily, for the transportation of the mails, munitions of war &c., during 30 years. The work to be commenced within three and completed within seven years of the signing of the contract, and the road to be equipped, run and kept in repair, &c., by the Company, or individual contracting, subject to certain supervisory regulations, as to rates of fare &c., by the General Government; and Government reserving the right, at the expiration of a fixed term of years, to take the road, paying the Company cost and interest, deducting profits.—Regarding this magnificent enterprise as one of vast moment to the strength, prosperity and perpetuity of the Republic, I hope to see this bill passed substantially as reported by the Senate Committee.

I learn that a son of our respected fellow-citizen D. A. J. UPHAM, Esq., is about to receive an appointment as a Cadet at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, to fill the place of my young friend TOWNSEND, who will be graduated in June next.

R. K.

LIQUOR BILL.—On Monday, the Assembly refused to concur in the Senate's subrission clause, by a vote of 27 to 44. The Senate insisted upon its amendment by 13 to 12, and Messrs. Wakely Reymert, and Smith were appointed a committee of conference.

WIS. CENTRAL R. R.—The bill introduced by Mr. BARNEY to repeal this charter has been indefinitely postponed in Assembly, without a count.

DEFERRED ARTICLES.—We shall publish to-morrow Judge Miller's decision in the Garland case, together with two communications reviewing that decision, for which we have been unable to find space to-day.

We have also received from a reliable correspondent an interesting account of the Waushara County tragedy, to which we will give place in a day or two.

A WISE MAN FROM THE EAST.—JOHN MITCHELL scolds Commodore PERRY, of the Japan Squadron, "for conspiring against the independence of a free nation," appealing to him as the brave "Perry, who signalized himself by his defeat of the English on Lake Erie, in 1812!"

That Com. Perry has been dead for more than 20 years.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT.—The receipts for the National Washington Monument, during the month of February last, amounted to $7,011 74. The expenditures were $1,533 50. It is understood that work on the monument will be resumed about the 15th inst.

THE PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAW.—The Senate of our State, in sending back the Liquor Bill to the Assembly, re-inserted a clause of submission to a vote of the people at the fall election, adding the following:

"If a majority of all the votes cast at said election shall be 'for the prohibitory liquor law,' then this act shall take effect and be in force from and after the first day of January, A. D. 1855, otherwise this act shall take effect and be in force from and after the first day of June, A. D. 1900."

☞The Chicago Tribune says relative to the late affair in our city:

We regret such disturbances of the public tranquility; but slave hunters must learn, if they have not learned already, that the days of kidnapping are about over, and if they desire to escape the punishment that persons engaged in such business deserve, they will keep clear of Northern Illinois and Wisconsin.

Whatever disposition our citizens might heretofore have had to pay passive obedience to the Fugitive Slave Law, which violates every principle of Humanity, Liberty and Religion, they possess none now. The violators of the Missouri Compromise have forfeited all right to appeal to law to sustain them in hunting down, with bloodhound ferocity, the fugitive from Slavery.

The N. Y. Evening Post—which does not often waste commendation on political adversaries, has the following:

THE NEW YORK SENATORS.—It gives us pleasure to perform a simple act of justice toward men to whose course, on many political questions, we are utterly opposed. Among the faithful few who resisted at every step, and to the last, the Nebraska iniquity, were Senators Seward and Fish of this State. The one by a powerful speech—evincing a moral courage which we should have been glad to see imitated by some of his Democratic associates—as well as by his votes; the other by his votes, never wanting when called for, our Senators have faithfully and fearlessly performed their duty. On the field where so many fainted and fled, no brave man who proved true shall fail to receive the praise which he merits at our hands. Without regard to their party affinities, we feel proud of the course pursued on this question by the Senators from New York. We only wish that every Free State had been as ably and faithfully represented.

More horrible sufferings at sea.

BOSTON, March 8.

The bark Saxonville, from Calcutta, fell in with, on the 1st of March, the bark Orline St. John, Captain Rabbird, of Gardiner, Maine, from Norfolk for Barbadoes, in distress. Was hove down on 21st February in a southeast gale. The Captain's wife, and a seaman named Martin, died on the 22d, and a colored man named Douglass, on the following day. Since that time until fallen in which, the survivors—the Captain, two sailors and the cook—had no provisions or water, and had to live on the body of Douglass. They arrived here in the most distressing condition.

Extensive preparations are being made for building quite large and substantial blocks in this village the coming summer. We begin to see indications of another excitement, and real estate holders are determined to set their lots low and let them slide for settlers and cash. La Crosse is bound to step farther towards a city another year, than she has yet gone. Every body is getting ready to extend their business.—La Crosse Dem.

BOSTON, March 10.

A private letter dated Athens, Feb. 9, describes the intense excitement existing among the Greeks. On that day 100 students of the University called in a body upon King Otho and demanded, to be let against the Turks, and urging an alliance with Russia. On Feb. 10, the students of nearly all the schools in Athens determined to volunteer, and commenced selling their books and personal property for arms and ammunition.

Large sums were being contributed by private citizens—one having given $175,000 for the arming of volunteers. The king appears to be entirely powerless, so determined are the people on war against Turkey.

BOSTON, March 10.

The great clerical protest against the Nebraska bill signed by 3,000 clergymen, Presidents and Professors of Colleges, &c., in New England, is on its way to Washington in charge of Rev. E. M. Dexter of this city.

Dr. Gardiner

WASHINGTON, March 10.

The jury in the case of the late Dr. Gardiner have just brought in their verdict that deceased came to his death by means of strychnine and brunchnine administered by himself.

The analysis of the stomach was made by Drs. Reed and Steiner. A large quanity of strychnine was found. The powder found in the pocket of the deceased was found to be strychnine. The mode of his death is thus put beyond doubt.

Washington, March 10.

In the Senate the bills making Dubuque and Keokuk in Iowa, ports of delivery, were passed after executive session. Adjourned to Monday.

In the House, the Minnesota land bill has been tabled amidst great excitement.

We are indebted to Mr. GIBSON of the Assembly, for several public documents, and among them is the Journal for the Assembly, in which we see nothing of interest, except chips cut off of La Crosse County and local bills. We think the Legislature would do the State a service if they would pick up their stealings and leave for the Pinery.—La Crosse Democrat.

These bills went through like shot from a shovel" and two or three bills to incorporate something, slid by me before I could get their title distinctly.

There is nothing to comment upon, and I am glad of it, for I could not comment if there were, with the uproarous headache induced by the pestilent air of this Assembly Hall. Why dont they ventilate this capitol?

SPEECHES IN OUR STATE SENATE.—The Madison Journal contains full reports of the able speeches of Senators BASHFORD and HARVEY, whigs, and Senators BOWEN and MCGARRY, democrats, in favor of the Anti-Nebraska resolutions, which were so shamefully laid upon the shelf in Senate, after passing the House by a very large majority. Senator HARVEY's speech especially, is reported at length, and marks him as a man of ability and fearless plainness of speech.

☞We are indebted to Hon. Geo. R. MCLANE, State Senator, for a copy of the Report of the State Geologist. If our sheet was as large as the Tribune's, we should take the earliest opportunity to lay it before our readers. As it is, we hope to be able to publish some extracts soon.

THE NEBRASKA PLOT.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times sends the following despatch to that paper. We cannot yet bring ourselves to believe that our political demagogues have arrived at that depth of iniquity which would prompt them to concoct and brave out such a plot:

Washington, Monday, March 6.

Developements may soon be expected which will establish beyond doubt the fact, that the assertion of the principle involved in the Nebraska bill is but the preliminary step toward the execution of one of the boldest and most stupendous conspiracies ever heard of. It proposes no less an achievement than the forcible seizure of Mexico, Central America, and Cuba, during the approaching struggle in Europe, and their conversion into slave States. Here we have the key to the solution of that most inscrutable political enigma of the times, viz: the motives of those who have been most instrumental in springing this portentous question upon the country. It is said that some of the first men of the Republic will be implicated, and nearly all the southern leaders.

FREE PASSES FOR CLERGYMEN.—The President and Directors of the Providence and Worcester Railroad passed a vote at their meeting on Tuesday evening to give all clergymen in New England a free pass over their road for one year from the passage of the vote.

It is a good movement. Such real benevolence to men whose lives are spent in labor for the public good, and that for a poor pittance in most cases, always brings its reward.

A ROYAL QUANDARY.—On the first consignment of Seidlitz powders to the capital of Delhi, the monarch was deeply interested in the accounts of the refreshing box. A box was brought to the King in full court, and the interpreter explained to his Majesty how it should be used. Into a goblet he put the twelve blue papers, and having added water, the King drank it off. This was the alkali, and the royal countenance expressed no sign of satisfaction. It was then explained that in the combination of the two powders lay the luxury; and the twelve white powders were quickly dissolved in water, and as eagerly swallowed by his Majesty, with a shriek that will be remembered while Delhi is numbered with his kingdoms. The monarch rose, staggered, exploded, and, in his full agonies, screamed "hold me down." Then, rushing from the throne, fell prostrate on the floor. There he lay during the long continued effervescence of the compound, spurting like ten thousand pennyworths of imperial pop, and bellowing himself in the agonies of death—a melancholy and humiliating proof that kings are mortal.

LA CROSSE AND MILWAUKEE RAILROAD.—The movement of our citizens for the past two weeks has demonstrated that they are fully aroused to the importance of a railroad connection with the east. Messrs. Clinton and Johnson, agents of the above company, have been here several days—two public meetings have been held, at which resolutions were unanimously passed, declaring that the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad company is entitled to the fullest confidence of the public, and pledging that the subscriptions to the capital stock shall at once be raised to one hundred thousand dollars. At the time of going to press, there is but little lacking to make up this amount and we have no doubt the pledge will be redeemed this week.—Portage City Badger.

Half a century ago, Lakes Ontario, Erie, Huron, Michigan, St. George, and Superior were entirely without commerce. Almost the only craft to be seen upon them was the Indian canoe. In 1850 their tunnage had raised to 215,000 and the value of the traffic to $362,000,000.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Of the Mayor of the City of Milwaukee.

Gentlemen of the Common Council:

Six years ago, as on the present occasion, I had the honor of uniting with the aldermen of this City to form the City Board. How brief the space of time since then! And yet how great the changes which that brief time has wrought! In this board, the change has been complete. Not one of the old familiar faces that sat with me in council then, is here to greet me now. And not only here, but in the social circle, are those changes seen. Old associations rendered, and new ones formed. Nor is it only here, and in the social circle, nor in the congregated mass of people, that we are made conscious of such change, but the physical condition of our city itself, reminds us of the flight of time, and the progress, as well as the mutability of human affairs. Our city has within that time, doubled its population; having increased from fifteen thousand to thirty thousand souls, and quadupled its permanent improvements, and business capital and resources.

We are called upon, gentlemen, by the public voice, to exert the measure of wisdom, prudence and energy, for the public welfare, which a kind Providence has vouchsafed to us; and I trust that each of us will so discharge his duty, as to carry with himself, into retirement, the approval of his own conscience, and the approbation of the public. We find, upon entering into our respective stations, the affairs and prospects of our city in a most flourishing and prosperous condition; may we so discharge our respective duties, as to give increased momentum and strength to all those measures and principles which intend to secure and perpetuate its moral greatness.

To increase our wealth as citizens, either individually or collectively, for the sake of possession alone, is not the proper end and aim of men; nor the proper object of civil association, except so far as it may be made conducive to the comfort, improvement and elevation of our race; and therefore, in all that we may do, for the purpose of increasing facilities in the transaction of business and the increase of wealth, let us keep also in view, the important and paramount purposes for which we have been entrusted with the management of the municipal affairs of our favorite and highly favored city.

My object on this occasion, is to be brief; and I shall not therefore, trouble you with an extended review or discussion of the past acts of the City Government, nor of those measures required for the convenience and future business operations of our people, but content myself by adverting to some of the most prominent; leaving to the future the consideration of others, according to their merits, as circumstances shall bring them before us.

In a business point of view, two subjects present themselves to my mind, prominently above all others, as requiring, not only the exercise of all the power of this board, but also the united aid and support of all good citizens who feel the importance of placing Milwaukee in the commanding attitude which she ought to occupy.

These are, the perfection of our Rail Road system, and the improvement of our River and Harbour, to meet the demands, and actual requirements of commerce.

This city has contributed largely in aid of the railroads leading into the interior, and is making still further and larger additions to such aid, for the purpose of securing the benefits which are to be derived from those improvements; and it is but right that her voice should be heard and regarded, by the several companies who have these works in charge. There has been a lack of concert among these companies, and in some instances, a spirit of hostility indulged in, greatly detrimental to the best interests of the City, which ought to be discouraged by this Board, and by our citizens at large. In union, there is strength; and if we had no other evidence of the truth of this maxim, the example of Chicago might teach us. It is suicidal to Milwaukee to contribute her aid to different works, which from their position will conflict and interfere with each other; but it is undoubtedly the part of wisdom, to aid all such, as, acting in concert, will contribute to the business resources of the City. A system may undoubtedly, be devised (and no time ought to be lost in doing it,) whereby all the roads now in progress, may be made to act in harmony, and strengthen each other; and there is no place so proper for such a measure to originate, as in the Common Council, which body has peculiarly in its keeping, the business interests of the City. In fact, it is a duty, which the council owes to the whole body of the tax payers, to see that all advances made for the aid of railroad companies shall be so invested as not to damage any interest of the City, but as shall, by harmonizing all, promote every interest.

On more than one occasion, I have suggested such a system, the outlines of which I will here repeat, for the consideration of the board, in order that the character under which the first road was commenced, contained (very improperly) a provision, making Madison a point; which involved the necessity of locating the line of the road through that place. At the same time that this necessity was imposed on the Co., it was deemed essential to secure to Milwaukee the trade of the southern tier of counties; and in order to do this, and still comply with the requirements of the charter, a large circuit, and increase of distance, was rendered necessary. Had there been no intermediate points between Milwaukee and the Mississippi, to receive the Company, a far better location of the road would have been made, by going still further south, as nearly straight as practicable through Janesville to the Mississippi, near Dubuque. But to run the line to Janesville, and then to Madison, would have involved a still greater circuit and distance than the present line; so much so, that the directors decided it was inadmissible. This was the fault of an unreasonable legislative requirement, for which the board of directors ought not to be held responsible.

This is one of the errors of the past, which, as far as practicable, we ought to remedy by future action. To accomplish this, I propose that an effort be made to obtain a meeting of the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad at Janesville, with the Southern Wisconsin Railroad; or by some other means take measures to induce the former of said Companies to reach the Mississippi as near Dubuque, as practicable; that being an important railroad focus for the system of Railroads in Iowa. Such an extension of that road, would leave the way clear, without conflict, for the Watertown road to pursue its way to the Mississippi at Prairie du Chien in nearly a straight line, taking Madison in its course. This arrangement would also withdraw the Watertown road from conflicting with the LaCrosse road, which it must necessarily do, if the original design of its projectors should be carried out, by extending it by way of Portage City to LaCrosse.

If the Milwaukee and Mississippi company and the Milwaukee and Watertown company can be induced to enter into this arrangement, the line of the LaCrosse and Milwaukee road will pursue its original route, without obstructions or conflict with them: and all tend to strengthen and enlarge the business of the City; while if the two former should pursue their original plan, we shall lose the business of a large and interesting region of our state, embracing the whole mineral district, and abandon to Chicago the whole lead trade of Wisconsin, which naturally belongs to us, and which by a wise system of measures, can be permanently secured to the enterprising business men of our City.

This is too important a matter to be longer neglected; and I conceive it to be the bounden duty of the Common Council, as the political constituent of the city, to take active measures, and insist on something being immediately done to remedy the error and oversight heretofore committed on this subject.

If this arrangement could be adopted and carried out by the several companies interested, Milwaukee would rejoice in the most complete system of internal communication of any city in the western country. She would have three direct lines, extending South West, West and North West, entirely across the State, touching the Mississippi at the three most important points on that great thoroughfare; at points, upon which, the business of the country beyond the Mississippi, in Iowa and Minnesota, will naturally concentrate; and which, by the proposed plan, will in a great measure, be commanded by Milwaukee. These three great lines, thus extending in different directions across the state, and acting in concert, instead of opposing each other, together with the Fond du Lac road and the Horicon road, will command the greater part of the trade of our state—a large part of the business of the upper Mississippi, and of the state of Iowa and Minnesota—through all future time; and concentrate in our city, a larger busines than can be commanded by any other western town, Chicago not excepted.

The subject of our Harbor at the straight Cut and the dredging of the River, to enable shipping to enter freely and transact business at our shores, is secondary in importance to no other interest, except it may be to the early completion of the several lines of railroads now in progress. I discussed this subject at length in my communication to the Council in 1848—large extracts from which have been made by the City papers within a few days past; and all that I can with propriety add here in that behalf, is, that I have seen no reason to change or modify any of the views or arguments then and there expressed. I am still of opinion that the City ought, with its own means, and without delay, to proceed in the construction of the Harbour at the Straight Cut, without reference to what Congress may or may not do; and I believe that the public sentiment of the City is now ripe to sustain the Common Council in the most effective measures for that purpose.

I therefore submit the question to your consideration, with an expression of the conviction in my own mind, that it is alike demanded by the public voice, and by the substantial interests of the City.

Various matters of minor interest in the way of improvements will demand your attention, to which however it is not necessary for me here to advert. But I will take this occasion to mention one, which daily presses itself upon our attention, but which is a little more than usually obvious at this time, owing to the particular season of the year, and state of the weather. I refer to the condition of our principal avenues of business, and especially to East Water street from Oneida street to the lower bridge. Also West Water street from Cedar to Spring street.—Also, Spring, from the Bridge to Third street.—These, especially, and the side-walks on all those parts mentioned, ought to receive immediate attention.

As a general proposition, the Police of the City is well organized and efficient; our people being generally of a moral and law-abiding character, but little power in this department is found necessary. Slight ebullitions however, will sometimes show themselves, even in the best regulated communities, which require momentarily the restraining care and influence of a judicious police. But although the general character of our people is so highly moral, yet I regret the necessity which forces on us the confession, that there is one at least, and perhaps more than one unprincipled person among us, who seems bent on mischief of the most serious character. The frequent fires which have swept different parts of the city for several weeks past, (evidently the work of incendiaries, and apparently the result of a deliberate and extensive plan) call loudly on you for some mode of prevention. I hope your wisdom will enable you to devise such plans, which by its speedy adoption, may save the City from further damage.

The fire Department is a most invaluable branch of our city service, and is entitled to your highest consideration, and to the support of all classes of our citizens—prevention is better than care; and it is better to prevent fires, than to put them out; but in cases where prevention is impossible, an active and well organized fire Department is indispensible. Such an one, Milwaukee undoubtedly has; and we owe to its able Chief, and active members, the grateful thanks of a city, for the limited extent to which all the recent fires have been permitted to range.

The educational and charitable institutions of the City are generally well organized, and under the care of excellent, able and worthy conductors; whereby intellectual food for the rising generation, and comfort to the unfortunate and afflicted, is bountifully provided. Thus our City and its institutions, are pursuing a course of public usefulness which must strengthen and perpetuate them to the latest time, for the benefit of unnumbered generations.

Gentlemen; I hope we shall be so fortunate as to leave these in no worse condition than we find them.

BYRON KILBOURN.

Remonstrance against the Nebraska Bill.

The following is the remonstrance alluded to yesterday, as having been signed by 150 clergymen of New York City:

HOUSE.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, in Congress assembled.

The undersigned clergymen of various denominations in the City of New York and vicinity, desire respectfully and earnestly to remonstrate against the bill for the organization of new territories, now before Congress allowing the introduction of Slavery into a region consecrated to freedom by the plighted faith of the nation, in long standing and "irrepealable" enactments, and by the divine and natural claims of religion and of liberty.

We remonstrate on the ground that the parties whose rights and interests are, and are to be, affected, cannot be restored to the position of equality occupied by them respectively, before the enactments solemnly established in 1820. The security for freedom then given to the one party, cannot be taken away without the grossest violation of justice good faith and law.

We remonstrate, because the deliberate and unnecessary extension of the evils of Slavery would be positive guilt, and, as committed by Congress, the guilt of the whole country, and not of any particular State alone; and we feel bound to protest in the name of religion and humanity, against such legislation.

The responsibility of determining the prevailing institutions of future generations of many millions of immortal beings is inconceivably great and solemn. We remonstrate against preparing the way, or providing the means, of establishing Slavery as a part of the radical and organic life of a vast future empire in our land.

We remonstrate against such a procedure, as tending to produce alienation of feeling between different sections of our beloved country, great agitation and perilous dissension, and exposing us to the righteous judgments of Almighty God.

The Hanging of Cartwright.

The Waupaca Spirit of the Times, after narrating the facts in the case of Cartwright until he was released on bail, and went home, adds the following:

The widowed and orphaned family of Furman still lived close by Cartwright's, and they stood in great fear. About a dozen neighbors collected about the house, and tried to reason with him and induce him to leave the country. He shot at one of the crowd, a Mr. Pierce, killing him, and then retreated into his house, where were four loaded guns, besides several other weapons. They used every means to have him come out, and among other things built a fire against the house. A gun

LIQUOR DESTROYED.—On Monday last, Mr. Jeremiah McLaughlin, while under the influence of liquor, fell from the steps of Watson's Hotel, New Lisbon, O., and was instantly killed. This so excited his acquaintances that they attacked the grocery where he was made drunk, and destroyed all the liquor in it. Several other groceries were visited, and treated in the same way.

PORTRAIT OF COUNT NESSELRODE.—This personage, the veteran of the cabinet of St. Petersburgh, has lately been spoken of by nearly every one. His title is the Count of the holy Roman Empire. The following literary portrait is not uninteresting:

Count Nesselrode is said to have been born at sea, off Lisbon, on board an English vessel. His parents were then in the service of Russia. His family, and we believe, the Count himself, is still a Lutheran. He first entered the navy, and quitted it for the dragoons. His physiognomy struck the Emperor Paul as that of one more fitted for diplomacy than arms, and he was sent as chief clerk to the Foreign Office, where the genuine Russians were found not sufficiently apt. Nesselrode then married the Countess Gourief, daughter of the Finance minister, a rich and profitable match, which facilitated his rise. Count Nesselrode, chiefly trusted by Alexander in his negotiations with the other powers of Europe, has been long considered the head of the German party, of which the principle is to advance the interest of Russia, and extend its territory westward without pursuing any active or conquering policy towards Turkey. He is thus reproached for having concluded the treaty of the 15th of July, which was considered an abandonment of Russia's hereditary policy towards Turkey. From Nesselrode still proceeds that language of plausibility, which represents Russia as utterly and honorably disinterested in its dealings with Turkey, and disdaining either to crush her or despoil her of her territories. It is not unamusing to observe the truly aggressive and even insolent nature and ideas of Nicholas, clothed in the soft and plausible language of Nesselrode."

CHARCOAL AND SALT FOR SHEEP.—"It is generally conceded that wet pastures are unfavorable to the health of sheep. I have kept a flock for four years in a pasture of this description—for the first two with unfavorable results. My sheep were unhealthy, and many of them died. I ascribed it to the wetness of my pasture.—Under the recommendation of an old farmer, I gave the sheep charcoal mixed with salt. The beneficial efforts of this mixture were soon apparent. My sheep presented a more healthful appearance.—I have continued the treatment, and the animals have continued to thrive. I suppose the medical qualities of the mixture consist in the disinfecting property of the charcoal."

And in the invaluable tonic and alterative of the salt, we may add; for, like many other medical agents, this article, when given, in small doses, augments the digestive faculties In larger doses, it is cathartic.—[North Western Cultivator.

HOW TO BE A MAN.—When Carlyle was asked by a young person to point out what course of reading he thought best to make him a man, he replied in his characteristic manner:

"It is not by books alone, or by books chiefly that a man is in all his points a man. Study to do faithfully whatsoever things in your actual situation, then and now, you find expressly or tacitly laid down to your charge—that is your post; stand in it like a true soldier. Silently devour the many chagrins of it—all situations have many—and see you aim not to quit it without doing all that is your duty."

City Auction Room,

March 1st, 1854.

SPRING COMES IN UPON US THIS MORNING, and no doubt we all hail it with pleasure. Yet we have no complaint to make of the winter that has just passed, for we have all enjoyed health and prosperity; but now then, and now are designs and new projects always to follow with the fresh breezes of Spring. We are now ready to enter upon our duties with delight, and forget and forgive the past, and in view of the future, I remind my old and new acquaintances that I continue in the

at the old stand, No. 148 East Water Street, (where I have been for years,) ready to attend to all business of every character and description, which may be given in my charge.

I have been engaged for a long time in said Auction Business and, having endeavored to do it justly in my transactions, I may have erred. My arrangements for the present year will be somewhat different. I design to finish off the Second Story, with a Stairway from the Front, for a where a Register will be kept of all the Real Estate which may be left with me for sale, and their prices. The Lower Room will be appropriated to the General Auction and Commission Business in all its various branches, and at as low a rate as it possibly can be done. As for Promptness, I presume no one can complain. As for References, you can select any one in our City.

I now call your attention to the Valuable Real Estate, which is left with me for sale:

Lot 1 Block 23,		Fifth Ward.
" 7 " 47,		" "
" 1 and 2 Block 68,		" "
" 7 and 8 " 75,		" "

" 12 " 94,		" "
" 11 and 12 " 94,		Third Ward.
" 1 and 2 " 80,		" "
" 1 and 2 " 85,		" "
" 6 " 111,		" "

Lots 13, 14, 15 and 16, Block 92, First Ward, the most beautiful Lots in our City for Residences; street all graded.

Also several other improved Lots in First Ward, at from $1,000 to $6,000.

Also, I would call your attention to Lot 4, Block 87, Fourth Ward, on the River.

Also, middle 2½ of Lot 9 Block 6, Water street, 24 Ward.

I would also call your attention to a very superior Farm, 1 mile from the town of Delafield, Waukesha County, containing Two Hundred Acres, with a Brick House, Barn, Orchard, &c., which will be sold very cheap for Cash. The owner is going to California.

WISCONSIN
General Insurance Agency
—FOR—
Life, Fire & Marine Insurance.

HARTFORD LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.
CAPITAL - - - - $400,000.

THE TIME HAS GONE BY WHEN THE ADVANtages of Life Insurance need an argument. It is already a settled conviction among the best informed that a man without much property, who has others dependant upon him, or a man engaged in any hazardous business, or a man whose property is encumbered so as to require forced sale in case of his death, has no more imperative duty resting upon him than that requiring him to have his LIFE INSURED. Think of those innocent objects of our solicitude, struggling alone with the cold charity of a merciless world! when a few dollars saved by curtailing needless expenses would give them a competency.

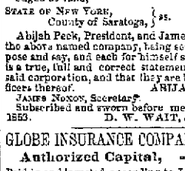
QUEEN'S PATENT



PORTABLE FORGE AND BELLOWS.

THIS FORGE can be set where most convenient for light and room, and the smoke conducted to the Chimney by a Pipe.

There are six sizes of Blacksmiths, Coppersmiths, &c. Forges, and five sizes of Jewelers, Dentists and Chemists.

It is compact—the Twier Iron is of a superior construction—heats the iron in the quickest manner—the wind escapes from the hot air chamber through several holes in the Twier cap, which being under the fire, prevents the Twier from getting filled up with coal and ashes, as it will where there is but one opening. For one-door work and for safety in-doors, this Forge has great advantages over others, having two slides by which the Forge can be closely shut up, and for safety and many purposes in-doors, (particularly for Jewelers, Dentists and for chemical operations,) all the fumes from charcoal and acids being conducted through the smoke-pipe, or when open they are entirely out of the way; it is also so constructed that fire or water cannot injure the Bellows

Propose to pay Particular attention to Architectural Iron Work.
WE are prepared to Manufacture IRON FRONTS for Stores and Public Buildings, with the Patent Fire Proof Rolling Shutters.
These Shutters are the same that are now so generally used in New York, and may be put in any Window, Small or Large, and is preferred before any kind of rail building, may be used without in the least affecting the style of Architecture. They make the only perfect Fire Proof Shutters, and do not appear to the eye when rolled up.
When ordered to work on the Plan, from our Store Fronts, (with or without the Patent Shutter,) with estimate for the Cost of the work finished ready for delivery. To our Western friends we think this arrangement will be desirable, for they thus are saved from many vexatious experiments what the Front is to be, and what it is to cost.
When the Patent Shutters are used we will furnish a man to superintend the erection of the Iron Front and the setting of the Shutter.
